BMV Joins the World of Social Media

INDIANPOLIS –Today, the Indiana Bureau of Motor Vehicles (BMV) announced the establishment of official social media accounts on Twitter, Facebook, Instagram and Flickr. "We are pleased to have a place in the realm of social media. Our goal in establishing these accounts is to offer an additional place where we can connect with our customers and they can obtain regular updates and information of activities at the BMV," said Executive Director of Communications, Josh Gillespie.

"These social media accounts will allow the BMV to inform Hoosiers of services offered on a more direct level," R. Scott Waddell, Commissioner of the BMV, stated. "We are excited to offer these new choices as an addition to our existing customer service options."

We invite everyone to join the BMV and "Like" and "Follow" us at:
