

Which school reports AP credits?

Your institution would report if it recognizes those AP exam scores in exchange for awarding the student credit hours.

If a student retakes a class more than one it is reported only one time, correct?

No. You may report the first two attempts of a course toward credit completion, provided they passed. Any F's wouldn't be reported. Our repeat course guidance matches the federal student aid guidance on repeat coursework.

Once CHE receives our audit report, do we receive official notification that it has been accepted?

We will let you know it has been received and if we have any questions.