Assessment Years: 2017 and 2018

The Indiana Board of Tax Review (“Board”) issues this determination, finding and concluding as follows:

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

1. Nowacki contested the 2017 and 2018 assessments of his property located at 2632 Jefferson Street in Gary. The Lake County Property Tax Assessment Board of Appeals (“PTABOA”) issued its determinations valuing the vacant platted lot at $1,200 for both years.
2. Nowacki filed Form 131 petitions with the Board and elected to proceed under our small claims procedures. On September 13, 2021, Ellen Yuhan, our designated Administrative Law Judge (“ALJ”) held a hearing on Nowacki’s petitions. Neither she nor the Board inspected the property.
3. Nowacki appeared pro se. The Assessor appeared by Hearing Officer Robert Metz. Nowacki and Metz testified under oath.

RECORD

4. The official record for this matter contains the following:
  - a. Petitioner Exhibit A: GIS map
Petitioner Exhibit B: Property Record Card (2010-2013)
Petitioner Exhibit C: Property Record Card (2012-2015)
Petitioner Exhibit D: Property Record Card (2016-2020)
  - b. The record for the matter also includes the following: (1) all pleadings, briefs, motions, and documents filed in these appeals; (2) all notices and orders issued by the Board or our ALJ; and (3) an audio recording of the hearing.

BURDEN OF PROOF

5. Generally, a taxpayer seeking review of an assessing official's determination has the burden of proof. Indiana Code § 6-1.1-15-17.2 creates an exception to that general rule and assigns the burden of proof to the assessor in two circumstances—where the assessment under appeal represents an increase of more than 5% over the prior year's assessment, or where it is above the level determined in a taxpayer's successful appeal of the prior year's assessment. I. C. § 6-1.1-15-17.2 (b) and (d).
6. Here, the property's assessment remained unchanged from 2016 to 2017. Nowacki therefore bears the burden of proof for 2017. The burden of proof for 2018 depends on the outcome for 2017.

SUMMARY OF CONTENTIONS

7. Nowacki's case:
  - a. The lot is in a neighborhood with considerable blight, abandonment, and vacancy. The city has done considerable demolition in the area, but the prospects of new construction are extremely unlikely as there has been no new construction in 70 years. This is reflected in both the Assessor's opinion and the market determination. When Nowacki acquired the property, the assessed value was 50% higher than it is now. There has been some reduction during this lengthy process, but there is still a need for a further downward adjustment. Nowacki requests the Board find the assessed value to be $900. Nowacki testimony; Pet'r Ex. A-D.
8. The Assessor's case:
  - a. Nowacki has not provided any substantial evidence to warrant a change in value. The Assessor recommends no change in the assessment. Metz testimony.

ANALYSIS

9. Nowacki failed to make a prima facie case for reducing the property's 2017 or 2018 assessments. The Board reached this decision for the following reasons:
  - a. The goal of Indiana's real property assessment system is to arrive at an assessment reflecting the property's true tax value. 50 IAC 2.4-1-1(c); 2021 REAL PROPERTY ASSESSMENT MANUAL at 2, 3. "True tax value" does not mean "fair market value" or "the value of the property to the user." I.C. § 6-1.1-31-6(c), (e). It is instead determined under the rules of the Department of Local Government Finance ("DLGF"). I.C. § 6-1.1-31-5(a); I.C. § 6-1.1-31-6(f). The DLGF defines "true tax value" as "market value in use," which it in turn defines as "[t]he market value-in-use of a property for its current use, as reflected by the utility received by the owner or by a similar user, from the property." MANUAL at 2.

- b. Evidence in an assessment appeal should be consistent with that standard. For example, market value-in-use appraisals that comply with the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice often will be probative. Id. See also Kooshtard Prop. VI, LLC v. White River Twp. Ass'r, 836 N.E.2d 501, 506 n.6 (Ind. Tax Ct. 2005). Cost or sales information for the property under appeal may also be used, as well as sales or assessment information for comparable properties, and any other information compiled according to generally accepted appraisal principles. Id. See also I.C. § 6-1.1-15-18 (allowing parties to offer evidence of comparable properties' assessments in property tax appeals but explaining that the determination of comparability must be made in accordance with generally accepted appraisal and assessment practices). Regardless of the type of valuation evidence used, a party must also relate its evidence to the relevant valuation date. Long v. Wayne Twp. Ass'r, 821 N.E.2d 466, 471 (Ind. Tax Ct. 2005). Otherwise, the evidence lacks probative value. Id. The valuation dates for these appeals are January 1, 2017, and January 1, 2018. Ind. Code § 6-1.1-2-1.5(a).

2017 Assessment

- c. Nowacki contends the 2017 assessment should be $900, but he failed to present any probative market-based evidence to support that value. Statements that are unsupported by probative evidence are conclusory and of no value to the Board in making its determination. Whitley Products, Inc. v. State Bd. of Tax Comm'rs, 704 N.E.2d 1113, 1118 (Ind. Tax Ct. 1998). To successfully make a case for a lower assessment, a taxpayer must use market-based evidence to “demonstrate that their suggested value accurately reflects the property’s true market value-in-use.” Eckerling v. Wayne Co. Ass'r, 841 N.E.2d at 674, 678 (Ind. Tax Ct. 2006).
- d. While Nowacki alleged that the area suffers from blight, abandonment, vacancy, and a lack of new construction, he did not offer any market-based evidence to quantifying the effects these issues have on his property’s value. And without market-based evidence indicating his property’s value was $900 on January 1, 2017, his opinion of its value is merely a conclusory statement.
- e. Because Nowacki offered no probative market-based evidence to demonstrate the property’s correct market value-in-use for 2017, he failed to make a prima facie case for a lower assessment.

2018 Assessment

- f. We now turn to the 2018 assessment. Because Nowacki did not prevail on his 2017 appeal, the assessment remained unchanged from 2017 to 2018. Nowacki therefore retained the burden of proof for 2018. He offered the same evidence and arguments he presented for the 2017 appeal, and we therefore reach the same conclusion—he failed to make a prima facie case for a lower assessment.

FINAL DETERMINATION

In accordance with the above findings of fact and conclusions of law, we find for the Assessor and order no change to the 2017 and 2018 assessments.
