Juanita Carter Receives Award for Excellence in Prosecutor's Office Administration

(Indianapolis – December 4, 2017) Juanita Carter, office manager for the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office, was recently honored by Indiana prosecutors.

Nominated by Prosecutor Michael W. Shipman as a "shining example of competency, commitment and loyalty", she was awarded the Kathy Falkner Richey Award for excellence in prosecutor's office administration.

"She has served faithfully the Prosecutor's Office and the people of Wayne County," said Prosecutor Shipman. Noting she has worked 33 years through the terms of six prosecutors, he said, "the number of years that Juanita has served is impressive alone and on its face, it is shadowed by how Juanita has treated people through her career...comforting children who are victims of sometimes horrific crimes, making them temporarily forget that the Courthouse feels like a scary place...To keep this positive and cheerful outlook, not only over 33 years, but also under the daily barrage of tragedy and hopelessness that comes with this line of work, is an amazing accomplishment in itself."

Also honored for excellence in office administration during the annual awards program was Cindy Craig, CFO of the Marion County Prosecutor's Office.
