Resources for Women's Health

The nation's 15th Annual Women's Health & Fitness Day will be held September 28, 2016 at events throughout the U.S., organized by the Health Information Resource Center.

Here in Indiana in 1994, the Indiana State Department of Health created the Women's Health Committee, comprised of women throughout Indiana representing a variety of women's health concerns. On Mother's Day, 1998, Gov. O'Bannon announced the establishment of the Office of Women's Health (OWH) at the Indiana State Department of Health. A Women's Health Advisory Board of 38 members was formed. The Board still meets today, bringing diverse representation of women's health issues throughout the state to the office. The members bring expertise in the following areas: legislative, medical issues, rape and violence prevention, women in prison, cardiology, osteoporosis, oncology, radiology, perinatal care, minority health, and mental health.

You can find Indiana resources on Gender Specific Health through the Indiana Office of Women's Health and national resources through viewing two useful indexes: Women's Health A-Z and MedlinePlus Women's Health. These indexes include: the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Office on Women's Health, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Women's Health topic page, and

Development Scholarship

The Society of Indiana Archivists will award the John Newman Professional Development Scholarship to attend the 2016 Society of Indiana Archivists Fall Workshop on Friday, October 28, at Hodge Hall at Indiana University (Bloomington). The scholarship waives the cost of the workshop and offers a check for $150 to help cover hotel and travel expenses.

Workshop: "Past History, Digital Future: Indiana DPLA Metadata"

This workshop is for those interested in providing greater access to their unique, locally hosted digital archival collections through inclusion in the Digital Public Library of America (DPLA) and/or Indiana Memory. The presenters will guide participants in structuring existing metadata to conform to DPLA and Indiana Memory standards and the training will be geared towards the needs of archival institutions. This session will also be tailored to the content management systems in use by attendees, so whether you use CONTENTdm, PastPerfect, or another content management system, facilitators will provide tools to help you unveil your archives to the world.

To Apply: Send a statement of 200-300 words about why the workshop will help you gain knowledge and experience useful in your volunteering efforts or career, along with your name, institution where you work/volunteer, and contact information.

Application Deadline: Friday, October 14, 2016

Please submit the information stated above via email to the committee members:

ISL Division seeking Public Library Bicentennial Materials

The Indiana State Library is developing a Bicentennial manuscript collection, including correspondence, reports, pamphlets, photographs, videos and other documentation. The collection will highlight programs, services and events occurring in every Indiana county. If you are creating bicentennial programs – or a collection of your own, please consider sending us duplicates to join our effort. As part of our manuscript collection, your donated materials will be accessible to all Hoosiers visiting the State Library.

Participation in this unique preservation project only requires sending the previously listed Bicentennial documentation to the Rare Books and Manuscripts

Lilly Library of Wabash College

Banned Books Week: Celebrating the Freedom to Read

Banned Books Week is an annual event celebrating the freedom to read. Typically held during the last week of September, it highlights the value of free and open access to information. Banned Books Week brings together the entire book community; librarians, booksellers, publishers, journalists, teachers, and readers of all types, in shared support of the freedom to seek and to express ideas, even those some consider unorthodox or unpopular.

By focusing on efforts across the country to remove or restrict access to books, Banned Books Week draws national attention to the harms of censorship. Check out the frequently challenged books section to explore the issues and controversies around book challenges and book banning. The books featured during Banned Books Week have all been targeted with removal or restrictions in libraries and schools. While books have been and continue to be banned, part of the Banned Books

Division. Through our collective efforts, we can ensure this important moment in Indiana history will be preserved for future generations.

If you are willing to take part in preserving our Hoosier heritage, please send your items to the following address:

Indiana State Library
Attn: Bethany Fiechter, Rare Books and Manuscripts Division
315 West Ohio Street
Indianapolis, Indiana 46202

If you have any further questions, don't hesitate to contact Rare Books and Manuscripts Supervisor, Bethany Fiechter, at bfiechter@library.IN.gov or (317) 234-8621.
